PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Computer Science graduate with skills in C, C++, Python, Java, JavaScript, HTML and CSS. Passionate about web development, problem-solving, and emerging technologies including Machine Learning, AI, IoT, and Blockchain.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Machine Learning Intern

Contriver(6 Months)

- Learned Python programming, Machine Learning concepts, model training techniques, Deep Learning and Neural Network fundamentals.
- Collaborated with team members to develop real-world projects and gain practical software development experience.
- Worked on data pre-processing, model building, and performance evaluation as part of project development.
- Enhanced presentation, communication, and teamwork skills through regular project demonstrations and technical presentations.

PROJECTS

- NGO Resource Management System – Designed and developed a web-based management system for NGOs to handle donations, campaigns, and volunteer records. Implemented modules for resource tracking, campaign monitoring, and volunteer management to improve operational efficiency and transparency.
- Framework for Static Analysis of Vulnerabilities in Android Applications – Developed a framework for automated static security analysis of Android applications by integrating a custom analysis workflow with the MobSF (Mobile Security Framework) tool. Utilized Docker for containerization and seamless integration, enabling efficient vulnerability assessment, report generation, and security testing of Android APK files.
- Interactive Ping Pong Game – Developed a browser-based game with keyboard controls and score tracking using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.
